CU*NorthWest Plans Office Expansion

Liberty Lake, Washington—May 6th, 2009

CU*NorthWest (CUNW), a data processing CUSO serving the Northwest announced today it has started a search for additional office space for expansion. Currently, operating a data center in Liberty Lake, WA, the CUSO is now looking for a second office location in the Spokane Valley.

Based on recent sales activity and the need to grow support and delivery resources, CUNW is seeking to more than double its current office footprint while dividing data center operations from support, development and administrative staff.

CUNW is experiencing extraordinary market response and is quickly approaching a sold out status for 2009 and wants to prepare for increased ability to deliver and support even more new clients in 2010.
