WESCO Net Travels to ICUL Annual Convention

Grand Rapids, Michigan – August 26th, 2009

WESCO Net, a Grand Rapids, MI-based provider of network technology solutions announces intentions to attend the Indiana Credit Union League (ICUL) Annual Convention on September 9th, 2009.

The ICUL Annual Convention is a major statewide event that attracts decision-makers from some of the state's most progressive credit unions.

In support of the annual convention, WESCO Net will have an expert on hand to provide valuable insight on leading trends in network security within the industry. WESCO Net travels every year to the event and offers information on the latest products and services that will best address the latest hot button regulatory and industry issues. According to WESCO Net, credit unions will find the event advantageous in providing them with the latest information on building and maintaining safety and security while delivering cutting edge services to their membership. The ICUL Annual Convention also offers credit unions some great resources to educate and build awareness within their marketplace

"I'm looking forward to the ICUL Annual Convention," says Matt Sawtell, CISSP. "It's a great opportunity for us to network with partners and credit unions in the state. The event also gives us an opportunity to exchange information with colleagues on current industry issues while showing our support for the credit union movement."

The ICUL Annual Convention is a three-day event with exhibitors from every spectrum of the credit union trade.
