Heartland Credit Union Selects WESCO Net's Unified Threat Management Services

Grand Rapids, Michigan – September 15th, 2009

WESCO Net, a Grand Rapids, MI-based provider of network technology solutions was selected by Heartland Credit Union to provide Unified Threat Management services for their network. WESCO Net's Unified Threat Management services include integrated firewall, intrusion prevention, and real-time inline network anti-virus and anti-malware protection. Heartland Credit Union has 19,488 members regionally in Southwestern Wisconsin and Eastern Iowa.

Heartland Credit Union required network services that could assist in managing its growing membership and assets. According to WESCO Net, Heartland Credit Union chose WESCO Net for the wide range of affordable secure network solutions and in-depth experience installing and configuring advanced technology solutions.

In partnering with WESCO Net, Heartland Credit Union enhanced its network security and availability by deploying WESCO Net's Unified Threat Management services. Additionally, WESCO Net's expertise in Managed Security Services gave Heartland Credit Union an advantage of having Internet Security Experts who respond to critical computer threats and pro-actively patch and upgrade their systems regularly.

“With so many different products and services out there for network security, Heartland Credit Union had a hard time figuring out what would be the best solution for them,” says Matt Sawtell, CISSP. “At WESCO Net, we sat down with Heartland Credit Union and came up with the best options in managing their network that best suited their needs and budgetary goals.”
