Best Advantage Consolidates eDocument Strategies

MIDDLEBURY, VT and MIDWAY, UT – June 16th, 2010

eDOC Innovations, a provider of imaging solutions and e-document management technology to credit unions, recently announced it assisted Best Advantage Credit Union of Brillion, WI, with streamlining its paperless strategy.

Tammy Williams, CEO of Best Advantage Credit Union believes in being innovative at the credit union. “Being aggressive with our e-document strategy will enable the staff to be more efficient and bring more value to our membership,” Williams states. “eDOC Innovations is allowing us to do just that by simplifying our technology efforts and consolidating them into one process flow,” she continued.

Initially Best Advantage utilized three different systems to manage and automate ID capture, document scanning, report and statement COLD systems along with eStatement processes. According to Dominic Sloma, Operations Leader for the credit union, the different systems were not leveraging resources, but were counterproductive. “eDOC provided Best Advantage with a solution that puts all the pieces of our strategy together into one technology,” says Sloma. “eDOC’s solutions complement each other and our core processing platform to build a complete e-document solution, such as going green and the expansion of our member services activities.”
