CU*South Staffer Earns CCUE Designation

Mobile, AL – September 16th, 2010

Mark Bohdanyk, Director of Business Development for CU*South, a regional data processing CUSO, has earned CUNA's Certified Credit Union Executive designation from CUNA Management School.

Bohdanyk earned this designation by completing a three year engagement with CUNA'S Management School in Madison, WI. Reportedly, the average completion time for the CCUE program is generally 7 years, with an overall completion rate of only 10 percent. Developed in 1975, the CCUE program teaches advanced credit union management and operations techniques.

According to Bohdanyk, he is excited to join this elite group of only 2,665 other professionals, and looks forward to applying his knowledge and expertise to working with CU*South's credit union clients.

About CU*South

CU*South is a credit union-owned cooperative focused on building a network of successful credit unions. CU*South offers a wide variety of services including its flagship CU*BASE processing system offered in both online (ASP) and in-house processing environments, and Internet development services featuring It's Me 247 online banking product, and It's Me 247 Mobile Web Banking – new for 2010, and free for CU*BASE clients. As a partner of the cuasterisk.com network, CU*South provides the most comprehensive offering of information technology tools and services through a collaborative, shared ownership model, with the same great value credit unions offer members.
