eDOC Certifies with DocuSign

MIDDLEBURY, VT and MIDWAY, UT – September 16th, 2010

eDOC Innovations, an electronic document CUSO serving over 400 credit unions nationally, has recently announced that it has completed a certification with DocuSign for seamless integration between the DocuSign platform and eDOC's DocLogic and idocVAULT solutions. eDOC's powerful automated loan processing and packaging system now allows credit unions to integrate branch and online closings with effective electronic package processing.

“Our certification with DocuSign is a reflection of our commitment to collaborate with the industry on behalf of our owners and peers,” comments Bret Weekes, President/CEO of eDOC. “We know that credit unions desire multiple channels of closing to increase efficiency in processing. Yesterday it was in the branch, today it is on the Internet or your iPhone, who knows what tomorrow will bring. Our commitment will continue to revolve around providing a complete e-document strategy for our owners and peers,” Weekes concludes.

eDOC already has a credit union integrated with the DocuSign platform and anticipates several more over the upcoming months.
